THE PRIVATE HOTEL SCHOOL ISSUE 1 | VOLUME 2 | YEAR 2010

Upcoming Graduation

Our guest of honour and guest speaker at our graduation on 19 March will be Doctor Reinie Mornet.

Having worked through the ranks of lecturer, senior lecturer, head of the department and assistant director of the former Hotel School at The Technikon Witwatersrand - now The University of Johannesburg, Dr Mornet was promoted to director in 1987. A position he held until 2003 from which time he became the senior project coordinator for the new hotel school, now known as the STH.

Apart from membership to a number of associations and committees, Dr Mornet was the founder member of both the South African Hotel School Associations in 1996 and the Sub-Saharan Hotel Schools in 1994. He has extensive experience of more than 30 years in the service of the hospitality industry.

"The hospitality industry is not only about the quality of the education you have but the attribution of your personality, attitudes and behaviour of how you treat others around you, is extremely imperative," said Dr Mornet

American Hospitality Academy Launches Online Hospitality School!

On May 3rd, 2010 American Hospitality Academy will launch its latest initiative an Online Hospitality School - AHA World Campus. World Campus is an online learning center that allows students anywhere in the world 24/7 access to AHA's world class hospitality education programs at an affordable price. International students can earn an American qualification without leaving home! AHA World Campus becomes attractive to a wide range of individuals: recent high school graduates, current employees within the industry wishing to advance their careers and individuals aiming for a career change to one of the fastest growing industries in the world today.

Online learning is rapidly changing the face of education today. In the USA, it has grown from around 3.5 million students in 2006 to over 6 million in 2009 and a recent study by the US Department of Education revealed that on average, online students out performed those receiving face-to-face instruction.

AHA World Campus will offer a Diploma in International Hospitality Management (DIHM) and two certificate courses namely Hospitality Professional Certificate (HPC) and Hospitality Management Certificate (HMC). These programs have been licensed by the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education (SC CHE) USA. Textbooks are customized by Pearson Education, the largest supplier of educational materials in the world. Students complete the practical aspects of their training by attending practice sites and completing a real-world internship before graduation.

"With the introduction of AHA's online hospitality programs we are fulfilling a lifelong goal of offering universal access to quality education at an affordable price. We are able to do so through our Global Study Grants (USD 1 million) and Scholarship Program open to students from all over the world. This is an incredible opportunity for individuals, who previously would never have been able to afford an American education, to realize their goals of becoming a hospitality professional." Ms. Cynthia "Cindi" Reiman, President, American Hospitality Academy.

The American Hospitality Academy was established in 1986 and is headquartered on Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, USA. It specializes in providing quality education in the hospitality and culinary arts field exclusively. It has provided structured internships to thousands of students from over 70 countries and delivers its customized Diploma programs through its global network of AHA-International Hotel Management Schools.
