

'Events are moments filled with magic and wonder that bring friends and strangers together.'

private hotel school
STELLENBOSCH
DEVELOPING TOMORROW'S BEST

NOVEMBER NEWSLETTER | 2017

Towards the end of their first year our students complete the Event Planning module and the practical component requires of them to initiate, plan and execute an event. In groups they brainstorm, select an idea and work on the concept for roughly four months until they have to stage the event. Read more about this semester's three events below.

Launch into the industry

On 20 October we bid farewell to our senior students who will be starting their internships in December. The evening was elegant and sophisticated with the restaurant beautifully decorated in white, gold and burgundy. The six course food and wine pairing menu was exceptional, especially with sommelier Tanya Beutler guiding the guests through each pairing as the night went on. We wish every student the very best for their internships and we look forward to watching their careers unfold.

Charity auction

Students hosted an auction in aid of Education Connection, an NGO based in the Cape Agulhas area, luring guests with impressive prizes such as a weekend trip to Botswana (including flights and accommodation), a spa pampering breakaway, a Strijdom van der Merwe art piece, a sunset yacht cruise for six people, a SASA wine steward level 1 course and a made-to-fit ladies suit designed by Elizabeth Galloway. The evening was a major success with a substantial amount raised for Education Connection.

Night market

The idea of a night market drew a veritable crowd on Friday 3 November when the courtyard area was transformed by fairy lights and patrons enjoyed magnificent food, art, wine and live music by Zer0 Dark 30. Tickets were sold out and with good reason; it was a magical night that will not be soon forgotten. Thank you to the exhibitors: Spier, GlenWood Vineyards, Chrisna's Olives, Helderberg Breweries, Stellenbosch Hills, Fielafooi Jewellery, Sweet Station, Cakes and Bakes, Stellenbosch Academy of Design and Photography, as well as Gaga Bout Koffie.

OPEN DAY

25 November

09:00 | 10:00 | 11:00

bookings:
info@privatehotelschool.
co.za

If events organising tickles your fancy...

...then the new 3-year full time Diploma in Events Management might just set your career on its path. The events environment is dynamic, ever changing, challenging, creative, rewarding, fast-paced, competitive and trendsetting. In addition to the Diploma's academic curriculum, experiential learning opportunities will ensure that learning continues outside the formal classrooms and will include work at major festivals, expos, different venues, team building events, conferences and more.

WATER SAVING TIPS

In the greater Cape Town area we are very aware of the challenges presented by our current water shortage. Everyone can contribute to relieving the situation by applying these simple tips:

- 2 minute showers
- Collect shower & basin water for toilet/ garden
- Limit use of washing machine & dishwasher – full loads only
- Use cup with water rather than running water when brushing teeth
- Fix any water leaks immediately

*Save water,
drink champagne.*

#WATERRESTRICTIONS

For more information contact Erika Theron on +27 21 881 3792 | etheron@privatehotelschool.co.za

